Kathlyn Williams.

The fifth story of the series of "The Adventures of Kathlyn," entitled "A Colonel in Chains," the sensational serial wild animal story from the pen of Harold MacGrath, will be the feature attraction at the American theater commencing today and continuing through Wednesday night. Part five of this interesting story centers about the rescue of Kathlyn and her father, Colonel Hare, from the dungeons in the palace of Allah, and shows the beginning of their flight toward the coast and freedom. A snarling leopard, several elephants and a monkey are the featured animals in this part of the story. Kathlyn Williams, the popular Selig actress, is the heroine in this thirteen-part story.

A two-part Vitaphone comedy drama, entitled "Doctor Polly," will also be presented on today's programme. Miss Lillian Walker, one of the original "blonde typewriter girls," will be featured in this production. "Pathe's Weekly" review of current events, will conclude the programme.

The motion picture film is excellent and so much better than the average vaudeville picture that all the audience actually stayed to see it even though it was shown last at the matinee. After the show, several persons were heard to remark that the picture was as good as any act on the bill, and while this may be exaggerated there is no doubt that it is an excellent feature, especially for vaudeville, where audiences demand fun and lots of it.

They were not on the programme by name, but the members of "The Singing Four" quartette demonstrated their right to be there when they won their audience over with several quartette selections and one or two well-sung solos. So pleased was the crowd that the quartette was forced by applause to come back at least two times. Their voices and well and their songs are good.

Price and Price, gymnasts, open the show with a creditable trapeze act. The entire act is a variety and one "stunt" is a thriller, the young woman falling and being caught within only a few inches of the stage floor.

Jack Dunham, Sam Edwards and Joe Farrell as the "Three Musketeers," provoked their share of smiles with a singing comedy act that is different. Their military uniforms and warlike back scene at the opening of the act form a base for some clever take-offs on the army and several pleasing songs. All three are funny and all three can sing.

Dave Ferguson has a number of new songs and after he had been on the stage several minutes he had the audience.

There are seven big acts on the Pantages bill for today and tomorrow. One of the most attractive features of the bill will be a return engagement of Peter Taylor and his eight ferocious jungle lions, appearing in the most sensational net ever presented on the Pantages stage. The lions will be fed at each matinee.

Another feature of the bill will be the eight Original Berlin Madcaps in their sensational dances. Other stellar features are the Alpha Sextette, the Aerial Lafayette, Tom Kelly, LaFrance and McNab and Rena Arnold in story songs and costume changes in view of the audience.

The Zoellner string quartette of Scarsels appears in a most novel and interesting chamber music recital tonight at the First Methodist church, as one of the events of the Graham Music and Lyceum series.

Numerous parties have been arranged from the various music studios, and also from the student body of the University of Utah. A large party of nearly 100 from the Utah Electric club will also go in a body and occupy a prominent location at the recital.

Patrons holding tickets for Thomas McMillan, whose recital was canceled, may use same at the quartette recital tonight. The doors will open at 7:30 and the programme beginning at 8:15 sharp. Seats may be secured at the doors of the church.

A noteworthy feature begins at the Rex theater today when "The Three Musketeers," a six-part adaptation of Dumas' celebrated novel, opens for a three days' run. The picture has 180 scenes, so well presented as to draw a special compliment from the national board of censorship, which passed the entire production without change. The elaborate settings, correct costuming and splendid acting by a carefully selected cast make the production something quite out of the ordinary.

The new programme which goes on at the American today will be topped by the sensational wild animal series story by Harold MacGrath, "The Adventures of Kathlyn," part five of which will be presented today. This part of the story is entitled "A Colonel in Chains," and was produced in the heart of India. It is in two reels. Kathlyn Williams, the heroine in this thirteen-part story, has a strong part in this section and her encounter with a snarling leopard, several elephants and a monkey, will be the most thrilling and exciting.

A Vitaphone two-part comedy drama, entitled "Doctor Polly," with the popular screen players, Miss Lillian Walker and Willie Van, in the leading roles, will also be one of the feature attractions. The special musical festival announced for this evening will include a special rendition of the Salt Lake civic song, composed by Professor C. P. Starnor. Mr. John T. Hand, Utah's famous tenor, will assist the American concert orchestra and there will be given two concerts every evening. Professor J. J. McEllean will do the conducting.

A vividly told tale of love and adventure is the three-part Italian masterpiece, "Unmarked," shown at the Mehew today only. In this dramatic photoplay are several sensational photographs, the most thrilling being the flight from the mountain top to the valley far below on a cable. There are fine views of snow-covered mountains and from a dramatic standpoint the story is most prize-worthy. A screaming comedy, "A Trombone Marathon," and a special Washington's Birthday picture complete today's programme.

"Dr. Advertiser" Is a "Quack"

So the Dental Combine tells you—and that is not all the complimentary things they say about "Dr. Advertiser."

Yet, when you consider what "Dr. Advertiser" is doing to the price schedule laid down by the Dental Association you cease to wonder at the malice and spleen shown him by members of the Trust.

Just for example: "Dr. Combine" charges you $10 or $15 for a gold crown—"Dr. Advertiser" charges $3.50 for exactly the same piece of work. And does "Dr. Advertiser" lose money by the transaction? No, indeed; that is not what he is in business for. "Dr. Advertiser" makes a nice, comfortable, legitimate profit—imagine what "Dr. Combine" must make.

And so we could go on quoting through the entire category of possible dental work, showing the same monstrous difference between the legitimate price of honest work and the price charged by members of the "Clique."

So they say "Dr. Advertiser" is a "quack"—no wonder they call him names. But the public knows from its own actual experience that "Dr. Advertiser" (meaning Painless Withers) is an exponent of fine workmanship, skillful treatment, painless operation and FAIR PRICES. And the public is showing daily that advertising pays—even by a Dentist—if he is on the square.

Remember this: "Ethics" cannot take the place of skill and knowledge in a dental office, no matter how the "Combination-of-High-Price-Conservation" shouts.

ER HALF OF ALL SICKNESS CAUSED BY CLOGGED-UP WEAKENED KIDNEYS

Arteries Are Suffering With Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It. Backache, Bladder Disorder and Rheumatism Are the Result.

A well recognized fact among physicians today that the greater part of sickness can be avoided by keeping the kidneys working properly. It is even more important than the bowels to move regularly, because the kidneys and bladder are the main excretory organs of the body. If they fail, the body is poisoned. If you have pains in the back or bladder, urinary disorders, indigestion, dizziness, puffiness under the eyes or in the feet, nervousness, tired and run feeling, or any of the many symptoms of kidney trouble, don't wait another day and run the risk of serious complications. Get an original package of Croxone, costs but a trifle, take three days, for a few days, and you will be surprised how entirely different you feel. Croxone overcomes the very worst of kidney trouble because it removes the cause of

Scene From "The Three Musketeers"

A noteworthy filming of the famous novel by Alexander Dumas begins a three days' run at the Rex theater today. The picture is in six reels, following the version adopted by Salvini, James O'Neill, Beerbaum Tree and other noted actors. It retains all the necessary portions of the story, without any scene to which anybody could take exception. The national board of censorship not only passed the picture without change, but paid it a special compliment. There are 180 scenes in the picture, which is one of the most elaborate productions of the year.
